In re: Finance Docket No. 34797

Dear Ms. Johnson-Ball:

I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with the idea of a large municipal waste processing plant in Wilmington, MA. My life would be affected by the sound of trains and motor vehicles traveling northward through my town. I think that it is more effective to have people separate and recycle their trash at the origin. I have known people from Great Britain and their attitude toward waste is to separate and recycle much more than any Americans I know. We could probably have a very efficient metals recycling industry in the United States if all of us were more conscious of what we can individually do.

I hope that trash from cities will not be dumped on outlying communities.

Yours,

Barbara E. Emeneau
